Psychological Characteristics

Personality: Adrian is quite the optimist, believing there is good side to most things and that opportunities should be taken when they arise. He is quick to try and cheer someone one up if they need it. Because he has grown up with parents who have pushed him in the direction of intensive studying Adrian has never really had a chance to socialize with anybody therefore he is shy and tends to avoid large groups of strangers.

Likes: Chemicals and Building Things Dislikes: Large Social Groups, Time Wasters Goals: Nothing in particular, just see where life takes him

History

Family (or Creators)

Lilian Tsukai (Mother) Viktor Tsukai (Father)

Pre-RP

Adrian was born on the planet Anisa. Throughout his life he has shown great potential in the sciences, his parents were not particularly intelligent and were confused to where the intelligence shown in Adrian came from; nevertheless they were proud and pushed him to his uppermost.

Having graduated from university with a degree in Chemistry, he joined the recently formed Peacekeepers (being unable to find work elsewhere) where he trained in Engineering showing great skill in building, materials and fixing devices.

Skills

Engineering

Adrian is gifted with ability to easily build things from scratch and particularly enjoys doing so.

Fighting

Adrian has received the training to be able to cope in war situations, while trained in melee he would rather fire from range with a rifle of some kind.

Communication

Adrian has received enough basic training to use radio and transmitters. He can easily understand and follow orders that are given too him.

Technology Operation

Adrian can use any computer in any language he understands.

Chemistry

Adrian is very well skilled in Chemistry, he can easily follow reactions and can duplicate them if he needs to. He specialises in the synthetic side of chemistry which is the making of materials.

Mathematics

What Adrian know about mathematics is due to what he has learned about it from chemistry. He understands advanced Calculus (Differentiation, Integration, Trigonometry) as well as quantum mechanics.

Maintenance and Repair

From his skill in engineering, Adrian knows how a lot of things work. Thus he can quickly repair devices or come to some conclusion to as why something does not work.
