Skin color: Pale

Other: Adi has a form similar to a short human, though she has red butterfly wings on her back that are of a decent size. She has two red butterfly antennae coming out of the top of her head that are one foot long each. She has a red cat tail with short fur that is five feet long. Her hands, feet, and extra insect feet have tiny retractable hair-like bones on them that allow her to climb walls in the same way insects do. She has cat fangs, and her hands have retractable claws instead of human nails. She has two black insect legs on her sides, between her arms and her hip, however, she normally keeps these hidden under whatever shirt she's wearing, and doesn't bother to add extra sleeves for them. They're normally not noticeable under her shirt, other than perhaps a slight bulge on her sides. She has long, butt-length hair, and has a very curvy appearance, with thick thighs, wide hips, a generous rear, and a chest with D-cup sized breasts. As part of the Hybrid project she has most Hybrid abilities, including their extreme temperature endurance, though she prefers to be in warmer areas.

Personality

Adi is very shy, even easily scared. She's easily startled, and tends to avoid other people, mostly sticking closely to those she knows. Once she gets to know someone, she will start to trust them and stay near them. Currently, she mostly sticks around her siblings, Sonia, Isabelle, or Jack. She isn't used to being a female and as such is shy about her body.

History

Adilis as a male

Adilis was artificially grown in YE 32 in a PsychoPomp testing facility as a male, though he had a high voice. He was grown to be physically 11 Yamataian years old initially (Making her currently physically 20 Yamataian years old). He was an experiment for the hybrid program, being Adria's brother as he used part of her DNA. He and Adria were purchased by an a visiting rich merchant family who didn't care for them. But he did almost the opposite of what Adria did- instead of becoming grouchy and abrasive, he became shy and cowardly. For this reason, he's hardly found anywhere but near Adria or Sonia. Because of the experimentation of his mixture of genes involved with creating him, his voice did not drop and he did not get very tall. He was adopted by Jack Pine in YE 40.

Hades kidnapped Adilis during their raid of the S6S Anvil in late YE 40. During this time, Hades changed him to be a female, and Adilis (Now Adi) met Sonia. Adi escaped from Hades with Sonia and became her girlfriend.
