She amply curved with wide hips and a DD cup size. She has long wavy hair that is quite voluminous falling to the small of her back, and with a long pointed bang to either side of her face that have been dyed red at the ends. Her face is smoothly curved and youthful, usually with a kind smile set upon her face.

Largely a smart mouth, hyper, and kind at heart Neera doesn't like to be uncivilized and is strict when it comes to manners. She does not believe in hurting those who do not deserve it, and is willing to stand up to those who would abuse, or harm others just for the sake of it. She has a fierce sense of loyalty, and will stand by her father through thick and thin. Her biggest peeve is being called a "bitch", even if the context is true. Anyone who calls her so, will be met with a very angry set of jaws, and a smart mouth.

History

Neera was born in YE 38.

Neera was grown in YE 38 as per ordered from a genetics company as a custom order by Jack Pine who at the time was looking for a pet to keep him company when he felt the most alone in his life. Neera finished her accelerate growth to the approximate human age of 20 in early YE 39, she was then sent via transport on a merchant vessel headed to 188604, which was where Jack's updated shipping address is.

In mid YE 39, Neera was uplifted to a humanoid body and then adopted, no longer being the family pet, but now as a loved daughter. She helped her father as an assistant for day to day operation of Section 6, but after the kidnapping of her brother Amit, joined SABER as a trooper. She participated in operation Ice Breaker, where she distinguished herself and got her brother back. Neera serves as a Lieutenant now, and still helps her father as an assistant when not on duty.

In YE 40, many things changed for the lupine woman. Her responsibilities in her father's army grew, all the while her heart sank as the year went on. Beaumont who was her first love, left her without warning, or even a goodbye. After a time of dating, he had just left, and it left an emotional scar. However during operation icebreaker which had ended just before the year's end, she had met a android man named Jace. At first she was opposed to his attempts to flirt, but as they served together through operation after operations, she began to open up again. After a few months, they began to see each other in a more intimate way. However, fate was once more found a way to show its cruelty...

Half way through the year, during one of the operations that lead up to the Fenrir report, Jace was killed in action. He died during a battle against a group calling themselves Hades, a group fanatically focused on genetic experimentation, and the creation of bio-weapons. Neera buried herself in her duties, all the while mourning her loss over yet another lover gone. For a time she closed herself off to only family and friends. Eventually later in the year, through an economic collapse, more operations against Hades and Psychopomp LLC, she finally moved on. Her job as a soldier and elder sister were her focus however. It seemed like she had given up on trying to connect with strangers, or even chance for more. Her career advanced further, even up to the exodus from the OSO, just prior to its collapse. But something changed one day as she was helping process new recruits, she met a man who become more then a source of intimate fun. David Maverock, through persistence and his accepting personality, found a place in her heart.

Before the end of the exodus, the fleet was attacked by what remained of Hades, attempting a desperate assault on the vulnerable S6 fleet. In the attack, David was stranded on the soon to be home planet's surface, when his shuttle which carried the advance team was shot down. Neera was in the hangar with the main force, which is where the enemies' boarding craft breached. They flooded like a tide of death into the ship, but yet somehow she survived. However, the trauma and injuries sent her into a two month long coma, from during that time David returned to the landing force. Even as the colony was nearing completion, he stayed by her bedside for the next half of a month since his return. This ended when with his help she finally awakened, at first afraid until she realized to be in David's arms.
