Preferred Plots:

- Any, I'm new and looking for some activity.

Physical Characteristics

- Height: 5'10"
- Mass: 150lbs
- Measurements:

Build and Skin Color: He has an average but slightly muscled build that looks slightly underweight on his 5'10" frame, his skin colour is a pale cream that you get from staying inside instead of going out for long periods of time.

Eyes and Facial Features: He has bright blue eyes fitted onto a slimish clean shaved head, there are no real distinguishing features on his face apart from a small scar above his right eye when he cut himself by mistake has a child that is mostly hidden by his hair.

Ears: Usually hidden behind his ears he has normal sized ears.

Hair Color and Style: Short neck length messy black hair that stays in a state of natural straightness that reaches at the front a few centimetres above the eye.

Distinguishing Features:

Psychological Characteristics

Personality: He has a friendly and opening personality, he doesn't mind being social though long bouts of social activity drains him and he can be abrasive to most people whether he likes them or not and would prefer to relax on his own or focus on another task. He can be quick to anger if someone annoys him, usually if they insult him, are too noisy or just are rude in general, this is made worse from lack of sleep as he likes his sleep.

- Likes: Reading, Cooking, Sleeping.
- Dislikes: Burning food, Noisy people, Needles.
- Goals: Not die.

History

Family (or Creators)

Alice Reams (Mother) James Reams (Father)

Pre-RP

Born on Nepleslia in the middle of YE12 he grew up on the future capital of the Imperium after his parents moved to the planet after the end of the First Elysian War to work as engineers at one of the many spaceport's that litter the planet after serving as engineers in the Yamatai Star Army.

Living on the busy metropolis was interesting with all the activity around them but their position on the social scale kept them out of the way of anyone truly dangerous though as he grew up and the amount of career opportunities he felt he had shrunk he decided to leave home and join the NSMC where he was moved to the Funky City boot camp during the middle of YE34. After completing basic training he moved to the marine corps for advanced training where he has been since.

Skills

Communications

He can speak, write and read Nepleslian like the majority of the population and can send and receive transmissions from headsets, radios, power armour and shuttles in and out of combat situations. Along with the audio based forms of communications he has been trained in writing the reports and forms needed throughout his career with other non-verbal forms of communication being taught to him (hand signals, lights, morse code, etc.)

Fighting

Having joined the NSMC he went through the basic training regime all recruits went through when they join, receiving knowledge in ranged and close combat techniques. In this he was trained in the usage of pistols, rifles, grenades and support weapons (machine guns, anti-armour, etc.) along with hand to hand and knife fighting techniques for close combat.

In this training he preferred using ranged weapons especially the assault rifles available due to their range and accuracy along with larger magazine size, this preference for range affected his close combat though his frame and strength didn't give him any favours in this field originally.

Survival

Basic survival is required learning to any marine with Alex being trained in the basic needs of creating a fire, foraging food, navigation and shelter building tools.

Strategy

He's trained in the basic aspects of discipline and tactics with him having the ability to plan and execute operations both standard and non-standard operations and the differences between the various operations the NSMC take part in. With the discipline aspect of his training he has been taught and molded into a marine being drilled into following orders, not disrespecting officers, keeping your uniform smart, etc.

Culinary

One of his favourite ways to pass the time was cooking, after years of practice along with it being a source of income for a short period of time, as such he is able to cook most Nepleslian and Yamataian meals to a professional degree and can do so using either professional kitchen tools and equipment to portable camping equipment.

Maintenance and Repair

With engineers for parents you'll learn how they work from them talking to each other at home, books around the house if you're the nosey type who likes to read and when you visit them at their work from time to time you'll get the hang of how to generally fix things. While not trained in how to repair mechanical objects he has the general gist of things more than most.

With engineers for parents Alex learnt how to repair many things from sheer osmosis and basic teaching from his parents, this gives him the knowledge to repair most electronic and mechanical objects (vehicles, computers, power armour) if he has the correct tools and parts, he could do the same job under fire but it would likely take longer and be of a lesser quality.

Domestic

Alexander has all the domestic skills required to run a household being able to cook, clean, do laundry and not burn the house down.
