Athrylis is a Player Character played by kyoki and is currently involved in the plot.

Physical Characteristics

Height: 5' 4 Mass: 100 lbs (~45 kg) Measurements: Bra Size: B

Build and Skin Colour: Fairly thin, with smooth Caucasian-flesh-colored skin. Her whole body is rather sinewy and lithe.

Facial Features and Eye Colour: Dull, gray-blue eyes, with features that aren't too sharp and aren't too rounded. They look very real, and only under close inspection could one tell that they were cybernetic from an ever-so-tiny metal ring around the iris.

Hair Colour and Style: Dark red hair, goes down to upper-mid back. It is kept down, with her bangs kept off to one side with a hair clip

Distinguishing Features: Cybernetics:

Cybernetic Eyes: Both of Athrylis' eyes are cybernetic. They have minor zoom capabilities (5x), can calculate range, and can see in infrared.

Arms: The whole of Athrylis' right arm, and the part below to elbow on her left are cybernetics. The right arm has slightly enhanced strength, able to hold roughly 100 lbs sustained. It also conceals a blade, much like a katar, within the forearm which can extend out of the wrist to a few inches beyond the knuckles. The left arm also has slightly enhanced strength, but isn't not as much because the upper half of the arm is still organic. This contains a similiar blade to that in the right arm. Both arms have a thin aluminum platemail on the top side of the forearms, for defense. They are also covered with synthetic skin, save for around the wrist. The wrist has a metal ring around it, that looks much like a tight metallic bracelette where the blade would extend out from.

Legs: Both legs are fully prosthetic. Enhanced to be quite a bit stronger, faster, and more durable than the average fully organic person, though not quite olympic level.

Psychological Characteristics

Personality: Quite un-emotional, and very obedient. She tends to stay distant from people. She is generally indifferent most topics. In combat, she is usually ruthless and doesn't care about injuries. Basically, she does whatever it takes to get the job done.

Likes: Quiet, Nice Guys Dislikes: People that take advantage of her Goals: To prove to herself that she isn't just her father's tool.

History

Pre-RP

Athrylis was born YE 10 to a family involved in largely gangs, and the resulting gang wars. She grew up decently sheltered from the violence by her mother. Her family was the head of a decently large gang, and kept money up through drug dealing, sending minions out to steal, etc.

When she turned 11 and grew much more aware of the actions around her, a rival gang attacked her family's home. Though they were repulsed, Athrylis' mother was killed. It was then that Athrylis was fully taken into the world of gang warfare.

She started training with her father and brothers, trying to help them become the dominant force in the area. Unfortunately, during another attack, one of her brothers was killed and she was critically injured.

To replace lost limbs, the Adair family got her cybernetics. After a brief period of getting used to cybernetics, she volunteered to do some more dangerous tasks for her father, such as being a bodyguard for her father.

As a false peace offering, Athrylis was offered by her father to another gang as a slave. She was instructed to wait until night to do her job, after all there would be many more prying eyes in daylight. It would also have been easier and quieter to off someone sleeping than someone who is awake and trying to run away.

The opposing gang accepted and took Athrylis. That night, after unspeakable things were done to her, Athrylis assassinated the upper member's of the opposing gang from within. Her father used her like this a few more times. In the final one of these 'peace offerings,' Athrylis was once again handed to another gang.

The only difference was that instead of the usual forced sex, the leader treated her kindly and with respect. He even treated her better than her father. Athrylis just couldn't bring herself to kill him. When she didn't return to her father after a few days, Marius took the job personally. He, somehow, got into the opposing hideout, and located Athrylis. Then, he killed the opposing gang's leader, forcing Athrylis to watch. She never learned his name.

This was the last thing she could take from her father. Athrylis left the family at the first chance she got.

Once out in the world, Athrylis would need some way of taking care of herself. After several failures at getting a civilian job, Athrylis applied to the military. There, she was approached by a field intelligence officer for the IPG.

Service Record

Star Army of Nepleslia Intelligence and Pacification Group

Breaking Blood Explosion Extraordinaire

After getting equipment, Athrylis and the other initiates in the squad headed by helicopter to the target site. There, they attempted to infiltrate the house where the target was. Athrylis, along with Nelew "Nel" Enev'rana and Cyrene Veles posed as hookers. But things went south, and changed from a covert infiltration to a fire fight.

Skills

Fighting

Athrylis has been trained extensively in hand-to-hand combat, and also with close range weapons. She is especially skillful at using the weapons in her arms. She was also well trained in doing quick, silent kills (assassination stuff)

Rogue

She is pretty good at sneaking around, going unnoticed. She learned this from her father, after many many tests on trying to sneak around at night. She'd have to sneak through an area, and not be found by her father for a time depending on the test.

Entertainment

Receiving impromptu training of 'entertaining' people, especially men, Athrylis can do a decent belly dance, and can act into the fitting role.

Maintenance and Repair

Part of her training was learning on how to take care of some of the more common guns, mainly pistols. She can take them apart and clean them, keeping them in good working order. If one were to jam or something, she'd have quite a bit harder time.

Physical

Her rigorous training with her father led her to be quite agile and limber. She learned basic acrobatics.

Domestic

In servitude to her father, Athrylis had to cook and clean around the house.

Medical

She learned rudimentary first aid, for treating minor injuries up to some small gashes. Nothing too fancy.
