Occupation:	Fighter Pilot
Rank:	Lieutenant
Current Placement:	Aquila Flight

Physical Description

Fetu is pretty average in size and build, at 5'10" and reasonably fit, but not overly muscular. He has darkly-tanned skin and short, curly black hair. He has a wideset, round face with a broad nose and expressive brown eyes. His body is covered with many different tattoos, most of which are simply stylistic, tribal designs that don't clearly depict anything. His voice is a soothing baritone.

Personality

Fetu is ever calm, keeping his cool even in the most dire of situations. He has never been known to raise his voice, and always speaks in clear and precise diction. While this attitude is obviously useful in most professional situations, his laid-back demeanor extends to a certain bit of laziness and even a lack of due concern. Without a firm hand to keep him on track, he might only do the bare minimum of work required.

Perhaps strangely for his chilled-out nature, Fetu is eager to throw himself into the middle of danger. As a fighter pilot, he likes to engage the enemy directly to draw their attention away from allies with seemingly little regard for his own well-being.

An acquaintance to all but close friend to none, Fetu doesn't go out of his way to socialize. He'll gladly share a drink and story over a card game, but true intimacy of any kind is unknown to him. It may take a persistent person to work their way to becoming truly close to him.

History

Fetuilelagi Owens was born in the massive urban sprawl of Funky City, the son of a tattoo artist and a street entertainer. Though the family was poor, Fetu grew up learning how to take care of himself without the need for much money. Though shying away from violence, the boy was not above begging, theft, or performing shady oddjobs to get by. Inevitably, this life made him several enemies in the streets and brought danger to his loved ones. This came to a head when his oldest friend and partner in crime was murdered and left on display by a rival gang as a warning.

Using all the dirty money he had saved and what help his parents could provide, Fetu signed up to join the Nepleslian Star Navy as a cadet. Through a, for him, rare sense of determination and persistence, he quickly distinguished himself as a fighter pilot and earned the callsign "Northwind" for his coolness under pressure and skill flying in an atmosphere. Upon graduation, he was assigned to Aquila Flight.

Skills Learned

- Communication : Fetu speaks Trade as a first and only language. He is trained in all forms of Nepleslian military communications, including radio and light signals. He can also ably write out after-action reports, though his laziness makes them rushed and lacking in detail.
- Fighting : A life on the streets of Funky City has given Fetu the experience needed to defend himself, and military training has sharpened that knowledge to an edge. While only an average shot outside of the cockpit, he has a strong survival instinct and excellent reflexes, as well as the willingness to kill when necessary.
- Survival: He has been trained in how to survive and stay hidden in the wilderness, in case of a bailout over undeveloped territory.
- Strategy (Tactics/discipline): Fetu understands how to follow orders and the shorthand often used in issuing them, as well as how to give orders when the need arises. He can evaluate a hostile situation in the moment and adjust his actions accordingly.
- Starship Operations: Fetu is an excellent fighter pilot, specializing in atmospheric dogfighting and interception of enemy craft and he has a remarkable ability to endure the high-g strains of the maneuvers involved.
- Rogue: Fetu, as a lifelong "Streeter," has knowledge and skill related to getting by in crime-ridden urban environments like his home. He can sneak, steal, pick locks, and has an understanding of gang organization and operations.

- Art and Vocations: Fetu's body has been a canvas for his father's tattoo artistry. Over the years at home, Fetu has learned the art himself. He can draw well on paper and create designs himself or by instruction, and then transfer such designs onto skin with the proper equipment.
