Psychological Characteristics

Personality: Kai Wei is a proud and somber man. He has a strong sense of duty instilled in him from early in his Peacekeeper career and he believes that loyalty and faith to his nation should be a mirror to his life. Since the events in the Tange system, Kai Wei has been a quiet almost brooding man. He is social enough when the circumstances require it but he prefers to be alone in almost an eternal remembrance.

He demands order and structure from those under his command and only barely tolerates most of the usual Nepleslian past times. Luckily, his attention to order, while originally off putting, has been known to enhance safety amongst his crews and even allows additional downtime thanks to its efficiency.

He was raised knowing that protecting those around you is the fastest way to peace. This has stood as his motto throughout his Naval career, even more so after the Tange events.

- Likes: Order, structure, whiskey, protecting others
- Dislikes: Chaos, lack or morals, laziness
- Goals: To continue on the Naval tradition of the UOC but dedicate his all to his new nation of Nepleslia.

- Lin Liang (Mother)
- Ju Yan Liang (Father)

Pre-RP

Kai Wei seemed to be lucky his whole life and even before it, though not necessarily for the better. It started with both of his parents surviving the Plague within the Yamatai Star Empire. He was born three years later starting off a new generation of the Liang family. He was as good as a child that his parents could hope for. He was a good student, well liked and active in recreational pursuits.

He learned a lot from his family and stuck by them when they decided to leave Yamatai and join the UOC in YE 30. Kai Wei felt so invigorated being surrounded by such like minded people he eagerly joined the Peacekeepers in YE 32 and became a crew member on the UCS Sevti, a ship assigned to the Education and Defense Squadron. Sadly, it was only a year before the battle in the Tange system, in which the Sevti was destroyed.

The battle left Kai Wei in critical condition but thanks to his mates he was loaded into an escaps pod and successfully treated by Nepleslian medical staff. He chose to continue bear those scars as a reminder. He was forced to sit by and watch the evacuation of the Tange system. He witnessed the heroic efforts of the Nepleslians and knew immediately when the time came, who he owed his allegiance to.

He dedicated himself to the Nepleslian Navy, bringing his knowledge and efficiency to bear. He easily stood out due to his work ethic and sense of duty. He rose to the position of Boatswain, a role he became highly regarded for. Although it was not something Kai Wei was looking for, he was told to report to the 1st Expeditionary Fleet. More specifically to be a Lieutenant in the Farthest Stride Task Force.
