History

Family (or Creators)

Nepleslian Arm and Munition

Pre-RP

Alexandra was born in the Nepleslian Arms and Munitions laboratory as a combat clone. Strangely because of a mistake during the cloning process her skin got an orange tone. Scientist really didn't know what could be done that so they took her into laboratory for test so no other clone they will produce has weird skin. She spent half a year there. When the testing and experiments were over scientist told to themselves that when she is there already they can use her so she spent another year there. Test scientists run were mostly about her physical condition and if there is anything about clones they could upgrade. Plus they wanted to know if there was any other side effects then her orange skin. When they were done she was sent into bootcamp with fresh batch of clones. She got through her training without serious problems. She was physically fit already thanks to the test and experiments after all. After the bootcamp she got her hands and feet replaced with cybernetics and was sent into medical course, She became medic and got certain knowledge about cybernetics. With that her training was done and she was ready for her first assignment.

Rok'Veru

Alexandra's first mission. After landing and getting Hostile combat suit she fell right into combat zone. Luckily she was to report to unit of NSS Acadia marines. After meeting with Phaedra Volkov codename Wolf she experienced some heavy fighting. As a team medic she had some work to do too. She also killed her first Ripper.

After the Rok'Veru she spent few days with other from ehr platoon on NSS Acadia spending time mainly with Sam Oliver. After bad situation when one of the marines went crazy and Sam had to shoot him, Alex helped Sam to get back into his own self. It is not easy to shoot humans as it is Ripper. During the ceremony Alex's rank was raised to P2C.

Funky City

During the senate session NMX decided to attack. Senate was bombed and Acadia quickly moved to help and rescue surviving senators. Unfortunately because of PAs being in maintenance platoon had to land only in body armours and with hand weapons. Platoon managed to fight off few parasited zombie groups and take a monorail station. During taking monorail unit was attacked by a Ripper and sustained heavy casualties. Alex had to take care of them all. After taking monorail station, platoon secured one of the trains and embarked for the senate. Unfortunately rail was damaged and train crashed. All the more work for the Alexandra. After taking some fire from more NMX soldier that was fend of by Private Skwigleff unit was picked up by medevac and flew off to safety.

After Funky city mission, unlike other Alexandra was called back to Acadia. Along with injured personalled of her unit. Which was most of the personall. Alexandra then helped Dr. Suku to take care of everyone. She spent a day on energy pills and other stuff like that. When work was done she physicaly collapsed since her body wasn't able to endure two days in high gear.

4th fleet

Alex moved with the rest of Acadia marines to little planet called Francia, where they were supposed to stand guard. Feeling not used enough ther, Alex and Henry, other marine in her unit called for transfer. They were moved to 4th fleet and soon were on data retrieval mission. Their squad was ambushed and received many injuries, after patching them up all that was left was Alexandra and Henry. They moved on and soon met up with Cavalier.

Cavalier were known marine unit in 4th fleet. A rugger squad made of messed up people and rookies. Except they were lead by Phaedra Volkov. She and Alex saved each others life several times on Rok'Veru and Alex was happy to serve with her again, or under her since Phaedra was sergeant now. The mission itself ended up being failure, but at least no marine died.

NSS Altomir

Alexandra did not stayed with the team for long. It was found out that 1st fleet was planning to take back Rok'Veru and Alexandra wanted to be there. She asked for transefer and were among the first who landed on the planet. The resistance was very strong though and her unit was called in the chaos and dispersed. She linked up with some other marines and ended up and the abandoned subway station, which was supposed to be staging point.

They were soon joined by admiral Flint Vanderhuge himself, along with admiral DeLuca. After dispatching pair of Mindy armour and some other nekoes, they got another problem. A truck with civilians followed by NMX mecha. The rag tag team was up for a real fight.

Francia
