General

Born in a town called Sharuta on Morant (Nassau 4), he lived with his parents until 16. In school, his teachers noted him as having an above average IQ. He studied martial arts and medieval weaponry in his spare time. Aendri found work doing planetary transportation jobs. When Aendri was 21, his girlfriend was killed by a comet impact, along with Aendri's parents. Betrayals in the aftermath of the impact by many of his friends changed him, making him seem cold and dispassionate. The fate of Shin'yuu, his sister, is not certain, and he has dedicated himself to the concept of Search and Rescue, as well as defense of civilians. This led Aendri to enter the naval academy to train in more advanced flight skills. He later joined the Star Army of Yamatai as a source of income, during his search for Shin'yuu.

After not receiving orders for a period of time, Aendri dropped from the Star Army, and asked for and received both a job and a birth with the Yggdrasil. He was transferred soon after to the Sojourner, a ship Captain Toshiro of the Yggdrasil had recently acquired. After spending a fair bit of time with that crew, he moved along when they disbanded, finding a decently steady stream of jobs working as a pilot for smaller companies. Despite not sticking with any single job for too long, he has started to be more open and friendly, and even let himself go enough to involve himself with a small number of women, though still not too deeply (for the most part). Around age 32, the jobs available for a non-sponsored pilot were starting to dry up, so he started looking for a more stable job once more.

Now he has decided to go back to the military, this time as an instructor. Despite (in his opinion) a dearth of good looking prospects in the first class he was assigned to, he none-the-less tried his best to get them to be combat ready, or at least as much as he could manage. After starting a simulation, he has been informed that he has a visitor down at the landing pad, and has exited the simulation and gone down to the surface to see who it is. After meeting up with his daughter, and finishing the class, Aendri realized he both needed a steadier source of income (and housing) to accommodate his new found daughter, and decided to re-enlist in the Star Army, signing on as a pilot, and quickly being reassigned to the Hokorimasu, a ship large enough to suit his daughter's curiosity.

In YE 43, Hanako noticed he hadn't been promoted in a while and got Ketsurui Yui to promote him to the NCO rank of Nitô Heisho.

Skills

Communications

Aendri is familiar with basic radio operation and procedures and can make transmissions to and receive transmissions from other characters through headsets, starships, power armor, and shuttles in both combat and non-combat conditions. He is fluent in Nepleslian and Yamataian. He can speak and write both correctly and efficiently and can write reports, fill forms, issue orders under fire, etc. He has specialized in starship communication systems throughout his time as a pilot, and is quite practiced at going through the motions of entering and leaving ports. Over time, he's developed a bit of skill in speaking without moving his lips, though it's not perfect.

Fighting

Aendri received hand-to-hand combat training, followed up with a rigorous training program. He is skilled and experienced in combat both in Yamatai-like conditions and in zero-gravity, with and without weapons. Weapons he is trained in include energy pistols, knives, and power armor. He is trained in sword fighting, and normally carries his katana with him for that reason. He has practice with multiple non-military power-armors as well.

Technology Operations

He is capable of operating any computer system that uses the Kessaku OS, found on all Star Army starships. He is proficient in entering and/or searching for information. He is practiced at running basic maintenance on shipboard AIs (rampancy checks, system maintenance), though less so when it comes to military grade systems. He is also experienced at running finances on a small scale, through his time working with smaller companies.

Mathematics

Aendri received basic mathematics training, including algebra and trigonometry. He is not bad with his math, but does not have the natural talent that some people have. He is well practiced in figuring financial information, and knows how to spot irregularities in things like pay and the like.

Starship Operations

He has taken training courses in upper level starship operation, and is a first rate pilot due to his experience in his former piloting job. With his time spent aboard the Yggdrasil and the Sojourner, as well as his various other jobs in the time following that, he has honed his skills as a pilot greatly.

Rogue

He has also trained in the shadier arts, such as lock picking, throwing knives, and shadowing people. He also knows basic hacking and encryption skills. He also spent time on the streets, giving him an edge when dealing with street people. Also, the desperate times after the comet gave him some skill in street fighting (dirty tricks). After he left the Yggdrasil, he also dealt in the shadier side of business, having to deal with the back-stabbing and infighting of smaller companies.

Medical and Science

Due to his former girlfriend's job, he gained a basic knowledge of the biological section of science. He also trained in first aid and emergency rescue procedures.

Humanities

Aendri is a capable teacher in his own right, having paid plenty of attention in school, and doing at least a passable job teaching at Fort Ready.

Trained at: Trained at Educational Facility 2 the first time he enlisted. Thought about going to Kyoto War College for a time, but decided against it when he decided to leave the military the first time.
