Physical Description

Kuri is a white-skinned, very curvy Neko, with a generous bust and thick, meaty thighs. She has relatively long cyan hair, that fades into purple highlights. Her ears are Neko style, and she has a tail, both sharing these hair colours. Her eyes are a darker blue than her hair, and she wears glasses. She tries to take good care of her hair, despite her busy job, and this is easily shown in how good it looks. She is a bit shorter than the average Neko, at 1.45m (4' 9") tall, although, due to her generous bust and thighs, she weighs around the average of 45kg (99lbs).

Personality

Crystal can be quite shy in social situations, even often having a noticeable stutter. However, when doing her work, speaking of it, or just speaking in a professional situation, it is easily noticed that this stutter fades, either partially or completely, and she can easily speak, being a much more professional person than social.

Crystal is a pansexual, more attracted to a person's personality and inner self than their outside self, although does show a preference towards females over males, so much so, that she would easily consider casual flings or relationships with females, while with a male, she more feels that they'd have to be right, or 'the one', for her, in most cases, with their personality, for her to consider them. Despite her shy, almost introverted nature outside of her work, she also feels quite open about relationships and love, once she gets her feelings out to a person, and would quite easily consider an open, or poly, relationship.

History

Aisupetaru Kurisutaru (Trade: Crystal Icepetal) was created on 7日 1月 YE 37. As with all Neko, she then went into training. It was after the socialization training when she met Elenor Arturius, who had recently gone into training after gaining her Neko body. She ended up viewing Elenor as something of a sister, even if Elenor didn't necessarily feel the same way in return to her.

After her basic training, she went on to go through medical training, learning all the skills necessary to be a medic in the Star Army. Deciding she would much prefer being a specialized ship's doctor, and not a field medic, she went through officer training, taking specialized medical training for psychology.

In YE 40 she joined the YSS Artemis, taking over the position of Ship's Doctor, and head of Medical on the ship, from the previous holder of the position, after being promoted to Chui, for her service. She soon learned that Elenor would be joining the crew, as well, and decided to prepare to reunite with her 'sister' from training. She is still aboard the Artemis as of YE 42.

Skills Learned

Aisupetaru Kurisutaru has the Star Army Common Skills and the Neko Abilities , along with:

- Medical and Science - Crystal has trained in both standard medical procedures for medics in the SAOY, and undergone specialist training in psychology. She has shown great skill in both, even in her relatively short career, both as a ship's doctor and in general. Along with training professionally in medical sciences, Crystal has studied other fields of science, mostly social sciences such as Xenology and Linguistics, as a field of interest, and to better help her medical abilities. She is also interested in all sciences and is interested in learning from other professionals, along with whatever she may come across on her journeys as part of the SAOY.

- Knowledge - Crystal, along with medical and scientific knowledge, has trained in SAOY history and law in the YSE, as part of her officer training. She also has knowledge in the arts and computers, as personal interests.
- Leadership - As part of her officer training, Crystal has trained in the art of leadership, both in public speaking and in general. Additionally, her training in psychology means she can easily and deeply understand the minds of her subordinates, knowing just how to word things for people to understand her meaning, and can use her knowledge of speech to use in diplomatic encounters. Despite her shy, somewhat introverted nature outside of her work, inside her work, she can speak very professionally and well.
- Entertainment - Crystal is an enthusiast of music, specifically more classical instruments, and, over time, has learned how to play the violin and piano (and, by extension, keyboard). She often plays either one of her instruments in her quarters, during her spare time.
- Communication - Along with her neko communication abilities, Crystal has studied various languages from all across the sector, which aid in her ability as a psychologist and doctor, being able to speak with patients in their own tongue, which sometimes can help in any therapy or psychological check-ups with others she works with.
- Arts and Vocations - Other than the musical arts, Crystal is a patron of the arts, of all forms. Other than studying or making music in her free time, she can be found drawing, or writing. For visual arts, she prefers to draw things such as landscapes and scenic views, than people or objects.
- Technology Operation - Much like the arts and science, Crystal has an interest in computers, and has studied some coding, both general coding, and some specific coding, such as coding for VR rooms.
