Gunshin Kyoufuu in Roleplay

Gunshin Kyoufuu is a player character played by Aendri and is currently involved in the YSS Heartbreaker plot.

Physical Characteristics

Height: 5' 3" / 1.6m Mass: 93 lbs / 42.18kg Bra Size: 36B

Build and Skin Color: Kyou is built slightly but solidly, having a slim body, but tight muscles everywhere. However, she has little definition, meaning she retains her feminine appearance quite nicely. She has simple, pale skin, with but one mark upon it, being her tattoo.

Facial Features and Eye Color: Kyou has a small, fey face, with delicate features. She has striking orange eyes, with a decidedly crystalline coloring.

Hair Color and Style: Kyou has mid-length blue hair, keeping it short, and usually tucked behind her ears; at least, inasmuch as the curls will let her.

Distinguishing Features: Almost everything about her sets her aside from the norm, aside from her build and skin tone, her eyes and hair are both uncommonly colored, and it is rare for a nekovalkyrja to have curly hair. However, another oddity is that her manufacturing tattoo is located just to the left of the center of the base of her neck, in plain sight so long as she keeps her hair about it's normal length. She had it moved there on a whim, thinking it looked better like that.

Psychological Characteristics

Personality: Kyou is a very calm, steady person, though she can get passionate if it is major enough. She tends to reason things out before doing them, and is quite stubborn once she's decided on something, but still likes everything to be kept as simple as possible. She likes being around people, even if there is little conversation, and is not averse to taking part in almost any activity which her friends are taking part in. She tends to take the lead in most of what she does however, reasoning that her thoughts and actions are usually better reasoned out. She has never been sexually active, but has no aversion to or dislike of either sex; simply not the time for much involvement either way.

Since her service on the Miharu, Kyou has become much more withdrawn and hesitant, second guessing herself almost constantly over even the smallest details. The fear of locking up in combat again, even if the first occasion was under extreme circumstances, is a pervasive fact of her daily life now.

Likes: Logic problems, spending time with others, drinking. Dislikes: Hasty people, anything that requires hasty thought, over-complications. Goals: Kyou has lost direction in life right now, choosing to reenlist out of habit more than out of purpose.

History

Family (or Creators)

Kyou is a SAoY vat born neko.

Pre-RP

Kyou had little history to speak of; indeed, all but a few weeks of her life had been devoted directly to training and development. What little time she had to herself, she devoted to either spending time with her friends, or finding new tactical or logical problems to solve. She also spent a little more time than average working out, and training her body for muscle memory. Her one vice was her love of food and drink, or rather her love of inventing them. When she felt that no one was looking, she'd go down to the dining halls and come up with new recipes, testing out her logic on whether or not she could make something taste good based on her prior experiments and analyses of taste combinations. She left basic, and in only a matter of days, was in transit, finally ending with her assignment to the Miharu.

YSS Miharu

Upon arriving on board the Miharu, Kyou and the other two recruits were assigned their rooms, and given a basic tour of the ship. After a short time training with her new crew, they departed on a high-level mission. Upon arrival at their destination (Amaya's Gate), fighting ensued between the defending ships and the Miharu, shortly followed by fighting at multiple points on the gate itself, after Kyou and several other crew members boarded. After some light fighting (on Kyou's end of things), the friendly forces regrouped, having taken damage. After regrouping, they headed back out as one group instead, making their way through the station until they encountered a sizable number of misshumachina along with a Black Mindy, which forced them to retreat once more to the hangar. After some assistance from the Taisa in a Ryusei II bomber, they then proceeded through the hallways of the gate once more, having more success with the added armor presence of their reinforcements, as well as the psychic assistance from Kotori. At this point in the mission, they have successfully engaged and killed Amaya, her guardians, Mani and Meni, and Eve herself, as well as her pair of Mani and Meni twins.

After eliminating Eve's ship, the Miharu as a whole was attempting to catch it's breath and preparing to enter the gate (or destroy it if possible) when Melisson herself showed up, informing the crew that they had been nothing more than pawns she'd used to kill Eve and Amaya off, and now she was going to take the fleet herself. The Miharu, after getting ready and following her through the gate, rammed her ship as a final attempt to stop her, and gathered a boarding party to try and attack the Infection Queen herself. After a brutal, extended fight with Melisson's flagship (during which time the Miharu was attacked), the boarding party finally managed to eliminate the threat of the Infection Queen, with fairly minimal losses. Kyou's nerves failed her part of the way through the mission though, and she locked up, becoming unresponsive and, later, injured, preventing her from assisting in the final portions of the fight. Though the injuries were fairly easily healed, the psychological damage prevented her from taking part in the Battle of Yamatai as well, not having had enough time in recovery yet to fight. Despite this, Kyou, like the rest of the Miharu's crew, was given several awards to recognize her accomplishments before being sent off to her next assignment.

Post-Miharu

For quite some time following the events leading to the effective destruction of both the Miharu and a large portion of the rescued Draconian Fleet, Kyou was considered unfit for frontline duty as the result of her breakdown. Though she was physically more than capable of returning to her original position, her mental health was far from stable, resulting in several smaller events in situations as simple as group combat training. After taking some personal time off in Kyoto, Kyou was deemed ready to return to duty, at least in a limited fashion, and spent a fair bit of time in smaller, less stressful jobs, primarily as an armorer's assistant and cook in various positions, none of which saw combat as the war wound down from its peak. About a year after the war had officially ended, Kyou was finally deemed ready to return to frontline service at last, and was assigned a new post with a smaller ship once more.

Skills

Communication

Kyou is familiar with basic radio operation and procedures and can make transmissions to and receive transmissions from other characters through headsets, starships, power armor, and shuttles in both combat and non-combat conditions. Kyou is overly fluent in Nepleslian and Yamataian, enjoying using vocabulary to define problems more accurately. She can speak and write both correctly and efficiently and can write reports, fill forms, issue orders under fire, among other things. She is also versed in the usage of telepathic communication, thanks to her nature.

Fighting

Kyou received hand-to-hand combat training, followed up with a rigorous training program. She is skilled and experienced in combat both in Yamatai-like conditions and in zero-gravity, with and without weapons. Weapons she is trained in include energy pistols, energy rifles, knives, grenades, and power armor. Through her time spent in the hard-fought battles on Amaya's Gate, and later in the Blue Rift, Kyou has shown herself to be a true natural in armored combat, even when facing superior opponents. Though not an ace by any means, she has definitely displayed the potential to become a true virtuoso with weapons, and she has the hard-earned experience in life or death combat to put those skills to use.

Thanks to her extended break from the front lines, Kyou has been distanced from live combat situations, and her skills are slightly rusty as a result, since the only use they have been put to is in training fights against her fellow soldiers.

Technology Operations

Kyou is capable of operating any computer system that uses the Kessaku OS, found on all Star Army starships. She is proficient in entering and/or searching for information. She is also studied in how to create 3D puzzles and logic problems using computers.

Mathematics

Kyou received basic mathematics training, including algebra and trigonometry, and no more. She never quite enjoyed math, despite it's very logical processes.

Science

Kyou also studied biology, though more specifically the aspects pertaining to DNA and evolution. She enjoys studying DNA, as the linking of a particular gene to a trait is a very logic based study, especially when combined with computer simulations.

Entertainment

Kyou is a very good bartender, having discovered on that her natural logical abilities allowed her to naturally guess new and improved drinks, as well as good pairings to go with whatever strange drink she comes up with. She studied pairing, both for best taste, and in order to better combine drinks and food. Having spent a good portion of her leave time around bars and clubs, Kyou is very well versed in a broad range of drinks and mixes, even if she hasn't necessarily tasted them herself.

Entertainment/Culinary

Because of her delight in making drinks, she became adept at cooking various foods, ranging from the exotic to the ordinary, anything which went with a drink that she could make, or that she could come up with a drink to go with, either way. The same way that she is good at making drinks, she is also good at coming up with new ways of spicing and otherwise flavoring things to make them taste different and/or better. After her long time spent living on her own, outside of a regular posting, Kyou's skills have only developed further, and her time spent cooking for large numbers of hungry soldiers once she was back in the service have only served to keep her in practice.
