Physical Description

As an average Nekovalkyrja, Type 33 she stood at 5'3" (160 cm) which meant she weighed 45kg (99lbs). The strands of her hair are currently a dark forest green shade, that due to certain levels of lighting has the effect her hair as being black, but in full light, her normal dark green could be seen by all who look. Her hair was carefully maintained so that it kept out of her face, specifically her eyes, in the style that could be best described as a pixie cut, making it possible for her hair to stay away from her SPINE. Her eyebrows were kept trimmed neatly so as to not cause a distraction.

Beneath her eyebrows and uncovered by her hair were a pair of almond shaped eyes, which were colored with the shade of ruby red coloring. Thanks to the holograms the red color was a lot more noticeable, and at night they had an illumination effect to them, which meant they seemed to glow somewhat.

On either side of her head were a pair of ears, which closely resembled those of a cat, which meant they appeared different from most humans, in terms of how they appeared more pointed and less round, and they had fur covering them as well, but unlike her hair, the fur covering her ears was more silver than green. Her ears and her tail were the only things that had fur, because the rest of her body had skin, which was a blue shade in color that was said to be in the middle between dark blue and light blue. She usually has a calm expression on her face, no big smiles or frowns, that sometimes make it difficult for others to tell her moods.

Being in the military, she had a body that was slender, with the impression of athletics, along with an hour glass figure. Even though due to genetics and metabolism, which never allowed her to gain weight or get out of shape, she strives to treat her body like that of a temple, with respect and care, which meant that she was never stinky due to hygiene issues. Both of her arms ended in hands that had three fingers and a thumb. It was likely due to genetics and how she was made, her feet would have followed suit. Just above her rear end, as the beginning of a long prehensile tail, that was allowed to wrap around her legs lightly.

Due to the training she had undergone, she tends to walk upright, and when she stands or sits she tends not to slouch. She doesn't have markings like tattoos on her body due in part to regulations and also because she's uncomfortable with them. On the rare chances she actually feels she has something important to say, her voice comes out as soft spoken, there wasn't any crackling in her voice as sometimes is heard by those of the wealthy, but it wasn't so quiet that she couldn't be heard, but it wasn't loud either.

Normally she'll wear clothes which due to enlisting as required meant she had to wear the uniform. Which meant that she was dressed, as was her feet. She also had weapons attached where appropriate. Her rank insignia was where it was supposed to be for all to see. When not on duty, she dresses as appropriate other than swimming. Her non duty clothes tend to be simple, nondescript clothes, though at most its an overly large shirt, since she prefers not to modify clothes so her tail would fit. When swimming she takes the optional part strictly.

Personality

Kiyomori is generally a quiet Nekovalkyrja, quiet to the point that she may gain the reputation of being unable to speak, or perhaps mentally challenged, however, with a race as advanced as the Yamatai Star Empire, that's of course impossible, and it was true. She can speak, and she isn't mentally challenged, however, she chooses to speak only when she has something important to say, which means she may prefer not to participate in small talk, unless of course a superior tells her to do so. She also chooses not to waste her time insulting another or make some kind of witty comeback, preferring to let her actions and abilities speak for themselves.

As with all Nekovalkyrja, her bravery that was instilled within her manifested as a bold fearlessness that allowed her to charge into combat ready to do some damage and defeat her opponents. She tends to be somewhat cold and ruthless, becoming so detached from her emotions when need be, that being forced to work with an enemy wouldn't make her worry about who else she might have to kill. That is her loyalty to the Star Army of Yamatai in not letting her emotions cloud her judgement.

How she treats others would have likely depended on who they were. If they were children, specifically civilian ones, she'll be kinder to them, and make sure they stay safe, anyone else, she'll likely treat how they treated her. As she had trained and grew as a Neko, she generally follows their culture in how they do things. She prefers to eat quietly and with her mouth closed.

History

Pre-rp History

During the Year of the Empress YE 40, and the result of the declaration of war, and the need for soldiers, in the capital of Kyoto did the existence of the Type 33 Nekovalkyrja that would soon come to call herself Kiyomori came to be. As confused as she was of her own existence and as ready to do her part to help the empire. It certainly had not taken long for her to follow the directions of her creators, which enabled them to see that everything checked out. Of course the fact that she had a tail was soon noticed. But due to the fact tails were making a comeback, and her own appeared to be prehensile and thus controllable, she was allowed to proceed with her next instruction which was to go and get dressed up and ready for her next instructions, which was likely to go somewhere and learn something before she would learn where her next orders were and where she should go.

RP History

Kiyo was soon given the orders to go and be a part of the Kaiyo crew, where she had met a lot of people, and discovered new friends she hoped to be close to, as well as a sister she had never known she had. Because she was a member of the Infantry, she used a Mindy, so periodically between missions and being around people she took it out and performed a weapons check on some asteroids. She joined her friends Saya and Elenor on a session in the ships Vr chamber, and eventually on discovering her sister, Kara "gravity" Sifsdottir she learned about her family, despite the fact she was a created soldier, the head technician who oversaw the two actually treated them as her daughters thus because of this all those women considered themselves sisters.

Kara had soon brought everyone together for an important meeting where each had to get a call sign. She honestly couldn't remember too much about what happened, but she did remember her own, however. But life continued on with life on the ship, where she interacted with people, spoke to her family with Kara, and of course one mission against the Kuvexians.

With the missions against the Kuvexians, Kiyo had mastered her marksmanship, but she also wanted to expand and learn sword fighting. To that end, and as a result of some things she'd seen she used technology to forge her own sword, which she chose to name Silverlight. This name was from the silvery light of the Aether that covered the edges of the blade. She also asked her big brother William, as well as their Yojimbo Rei to train her, though it was primarily William due to Rei's duties.

For her bravery and courage, and her willingness to do her duty, she was promoted to Itto Hei but just because she got promoted once didn't mean her duty didn't slack. The blue-skinned Neko continued to work hard and train, and as time past she found love in Wulf Soban, and she moved into a cabin with him. Later she got a red drake she named Valkyr as a result of Wulf getting one for her. The two of them spoiled their drake giving her a small drake house in the shape of a castle and thanks to her friendship with Saya, Valkyr got a sword and later on, Valkyr got a cute Mindy costume. The ship got boarded by Kuvexians, and Kiyo and the others fought them, and Kiyo allowed her anger to get the better of her when Wulf got injured. They say hell had no fury like a woman scorned, and Kiyo wasn't just a woman she was a NekoValkyrja so it had to have been worse. Fortunately, Wulf survived and the Kuvexians retreated, allowing the Kaiyo crew to lick their wounds. They infiltrated Kuvexian space partly to make repairs to the ship but also to gain intel. Unfortunately, a mission went bad causing them to retreat. And they later had to go on a rescue mission to rescue members of their crew mainly Aiko, William, and Saya as well as Saya's daughter Tsubame. Kiyo gave birth to Luna around the time of Yule, and as a result, her daughter and Tsubame grew up together and were friends. Luna proved to be an adorable girl full of adventurous spirit and as a result, she got introduced to William her uncle.

Luna chose the technician career path, this was the result of her parent's desire for their daughter to be a support rather than infantry. Kiyo continued to get promotions, including the result of the final offensive against the Kuvexians. Kiyo was now an Itto Heisho, her tour with the crew was at an end. Though William was able to visit and the girls will visit their other friends and family.

Since then Kiyo has continued to train with her Aether Katana, Silverlight. Some like her daughter Luna Soban have taken to calling her a Samurai though she'd been trained by one, she wasn't acknowledged as a member no matter how interested she might have been. Kiyo and Luna decided to go on a cruise that had malfunctioned and they were trapped in their seats, fortunately, they survived the crash landing on this cold frozen world. They managed to make it to an abandoned Star Army base that had a ship so while Luna got to working on it, Kiyo searched around for food and things they could bring before they left the planet.

Sadly this wouldn't be the first time they crash landed, and themselves found themselves on Vice separated from each other, and being attacked by bad guys. Luna was rescued by Makoto and the mother and daughter were soon reunited. Makoto had brought them to her safe house, and took care of the two before going out to complete her mission and then taking them off world.

The three were Star Army Reserve members then, but with the Norian's arrival brought them back to active status and they served on one of the ships that rescued the Norian people. Eventually Makoto, Kiyo and Luna Soban both returned to the Capital where the three had heard of the Colonial Initiative headed by Ketsurui-Motoyoshi Katsuko the idea intrigued them, and they wanted to go along but they also wanted to stay in the Kikyo Sector until Luna reminded them of some facts.

Later on was the Hanami festival where her daughter acted as a guide to her niece, though she and Yayoi had to leave to help her daughter with a surprise.
