Physical Description

Yue had red hair, which she kept in a controlled twin tail style of hair, which was tied in green bands. Her hair was properly cleaned and washed as to not leave a look of oiliness to it. In certain light hues, her hair looks black when it is a red color, in real sun light. Because of how controlled her hair was, she had Neko type ears covering what would normally be her Minkan ears. Her ears noticeably turn periodically at random intervals whether it was because she was listening to the conversation around her or because of power generation when it moves.

Visible under the hair, dark-shaded eyebrows, with a particularly sophisticated thin arch. Her eyes aren't too unique other than they are round, almost Yamataian. Her face had a soft diamond shape to it, and her voice came off soft and sweet. She stood at 4'8 with a healthy body type and Blue color skin.

Her arms end in five fingers, and when her feet are bare, her legs ended in digitigrade three-toed feet. Unnoticeable, the lower half of her body was somewhat alien, and she had a tail, a long prehensile reptilian tail, which she sometimes used to carry her bags so her arms are free.

Additional info

Genetically changed ears: Able to hear whispers and detect certain words at a great distance from her

Tail: prehensile can be used as an extra limb if Yue needed it and it might be able to be used as a Whip.

Bra Size: AA

Personality

Yue's upbringing in a gang idled neighborhood during her formative years affected the Minkan girl. The need to fight, to fight to survive had strengthened her courage and bravery, to the point that she didn't blink even when threatened. But it was fortunate that she didn't spend all her life there. When she wasn't kicked off the ship and allowed passage, and work, it helped to develop trust within others. This Trust was great when Yuka took her in and adopted her, which developed gratitude and loyalty to her mother and her new family.

This loyalty was proven again when the young girl needed Cybernetic replacements when her body developed medical issues. Yuka's influence brought her up to become a polite member of society and a productive one. Her past in the criminal environment while ignored by most did allow her to have an edge, where she'll be much more aware of certain groups and identities, which would allow her to alert her mother, the Yugumo Corporation, and the Motoyoshi Clan.

Yue never forgets a face no matter how long it has been and she'll use this ability to help if she had to. Yue's a hard worker who tends to not be lazy unless sleep is needed, or laziness are expected in certain environments. Her main goals in life are mainly to be useful to her clan and her mother deeming this as her purpose in life. Her nature, however, may cause others of importance to feel some concern that she wasn't taking adequate breaks.

Yue's a good person to have at a party due to having some skill in Mixology with the knowledge of ingredients to make a variety of drinks as requested.

When interacting with others she's polite and depending on who they are, whether a member of the family or strangers, will affect how she'll act towards them. She is social, at least she can be, but there are times when she's silent, it was partly because it doesn't occur to her she should speak, but also because she's careful in what she says. Animals and children are treated kindly, almost like she was a big sister type of girl.

She tends to like those who respect women, and Nekovalkyrja, though she might prefer women in a romantic relationship, she wouldn't shun men.

History

Motoyoshi-Igarashi Yue was born in YE 27 in the city of Faith, Vice and her parents tried to keep her safe from harm from the gangs and the criminals that ran rampant. Unfortunately, due to their jobs, there were times they had to leave the little girl alone, and when they couldn't get a babysitter they trusted to look after her, they took her to work with them. It was not an environment a little girl should be in, so when she could walk and rarely needed her parents as much, she was left alone, until gangsters killed her parents and she was forced out on the streets.

Her life then was harsh, full of fights, that she needed to do just to eat or get a good place to sleep. Her old home was included in a bombing incident, so she couldn't go there to sleep. The young girl knew this wasn't for her, but with no one she could trust, she knew she'd have to resort to criminal activity just to be safe. She learned how to pickpocket, how to sneak, and despite a few setbacks, she could learn how to be stealthy.

It was the one night when she was 12 years old did she make her plan to leave Vice. That night she stowed herself in a crate which was taken into a ship. She fell asleep that night, only to be woken up when she was discovered. Little Yue knew the choice they would make, but she could come up with a better plan, one that benefited her, namely she could use her skills to make repairs, and she bettered her learning on Mixology, so she became the ship's bartender.

Life on the ship was harsh and the young girl despite her skills was mistreated and eventually dumped on a planet far away from where she encountered her future mother, who took pity on her and took her in, and adopted her. For the first time, she was shown kindness and treated well. She'd missed having a mother. It took time, but Yuka could prove herself trustworthy, and though she didn't say it, Yue felt she owed her a debt of gratitude.

Yuka's connections were used and Yue could attend schools where she could learn what she could not on Vice. The young girl found herself being happy she was safe, loved she had a large family, and she needn't worry about paying for school. As part of her education, she learned from the best Mixologists.

Unfortunately, at 15 she began to notice that her body was causing her problems, from her ears going deaf to her legs weakening. It turns out she'd developed a genetic disease, which her parents would have had. They cloned her body, but they modified it, to prevent it from failing her. Furthermore, they consulted her, and her mother for input since it will be a body, Yue will be using, so Yue put in some designs of what she wanted things to look like. First, a tail, when she saw that tails were making a comeback, Neko type ears because she was from Yamatai and she thought it would look cute. So she got her body swapped and watched as her old body was disposed of.

After this, she spent a little more than a year learning how to operate her new limbs, and the medics were impressed with how fast she mastered it. After this, she went back to her education and eventually passed, and now that she was an adult at 20, she took a job at her family's company, hoping to pay them back for the kindness they've shown her.

After this, she entered to work at her clans corporation and slowly climbed the ranks until she became a Junior Executive and in YE 43, Motoyoshi-Igarashi Yue began living aboard the Haru-no-Hanabi along with Tachiko. Yue thought this would be a good chance to get to know one of her family members. She also started designing a new class of starship that she hoped the Clan, Takeda Fleet, even everyone could use. She already knew of one Corporation that might be interested.

Her Tachiko had entered Giretsu school and after graduating, there was a party on the ship, and Yue sang for them, a new original ¹⁾ song. But she had her first encounter with a man, where she had sex with Tachiko, and Frank. Yue had also developed Hoverboards for use by extreme loving athletes, and had sent them for review by Yugumo Executives.

In Early Ye 45, Yue participated in helping to find parts for the Port Jiyuu's experimental Hyperdrive, and she was able to help her uncle in finding his lost bag, which appeared to be the same area as her silly uncle.
