Physical Description

Kazue is similar in appearance to her fellow Type 33 Nekovalkyrja. She has brown eyes that are noticeable due to her pale-colored skin and her shoulder-length blue hair. She is 148 cm in height and weighs about 43 kg that adds up to her short slender posture and clean skin with no tattoos to be found.

You will rarely see Kazue with any make-up and while duty prevents her, she is rather dirty by the oil of working on machinery. On duty, Kazue is holding strictly to the Star Army Duty Uniform, type 42. On formal occasions, she will be wearing light make-up and can be seen in the Star Army Duty Uniform, type 35, Captains Cap type 36 and with her Star Army Officer Sword, Type 40

Personality

While it doesn't show at first, Kazue stands behind the ethics of the Motoyoshi Clan and believes that the Yamatai are the strongest and best of the galaxy. Kazue stands behind the ethics of the Motoyoshi Clan and believes that the Yamatai are the strongest and best of the galaxy. She still follows the virtues of her clan, integrity, honor, honesty, loyalty, kindness, and forgiveness while being reverent and respectful to those who are her superiors and peers. Kazue is like most of her Yamatai sisters and brothers a hard work that loves being part of the Star Army. She is viewed as a trustworthy and loyal person that has earned her rank over the years in service of the empire.

In many eyes, Kazue is an overachiever who wishes to improve herself to be more efficient and productive to her people and in service of the Empire. She has an extended career in engineering as a combat engineer and maintenance technician, got an additional certificate in the Emergency Service as a qualified firefighter, and continued her career path in logistics and the operations of it. Kazue's fair defense is that she was raised with these morals to improve herself to become the best, so she could serve the empire at her best.

To help the empire and protect its idealism is the main drive for Kazue, but her motivation burns from the ability to help and protect those in need. Her desire is actually to become a shop owner but seeing that the Motoyoshi clan has different opinions about that, she has that on the last place on her list.

History

A Neko with engineering hands Motoyoshi Kazue was produced in 19日 7月 YE 25 at Hotaru Star Fortress. From this point, Kazue was raised in the ways of the Traditions And Philosophies and trained to become an exemplary soldier for the Yamatai Empire. However, in her training, it was noticed and later also stimulated that Kazue had a gift for engineering and a great drive to serve the Yamatai Empire. When her academy days were over she was assigned to the YSS Namiko and got the position as the Maintenance Technician. Due to her skills in engineering, she moved up in ranks and eventually got involved with the Namiko in the Battle of Murf where Kazue was forced to abandon ship as it got destroyed. As one of the few survivors of the battle, Kazue got reassigned to the YSS Yugumo as their Starship Systems Technician.

A clean slate For a year her career was going good until the 5XF was sent to the Great Lighthouse, unknown of what was really going on, Kazue was devastated to find out the betrayal that had happened and she felt for the first time helpless, angry and frustrated that she was used in such a manner. With shame, she accepted any reassignment after those events and was transfer towards YSS Cygnet as their Starship Systems Technician in the First Expeditionary Fleet. Even though Kazue kept to herself, she was not going to let the Motoyoshi clan down, she would not sit back and let this eat her up. No, she would improve herself, to better herself and believe that she could serve the Yamatai Empire to a means end.

In YE 33 she was reassigned to the YSS Yotho in the Seventh Fleet and kept her current position. Unknown to her that the Motoyoshi Clan had helped behind the scenes to get her into a better career path, Kazue just continued to work for the empire. Kazue gets a bitter taste when she hears that they were returning to the Great Lighthouse to clean up house there, yet it was in her view also an opportunity to undo what had been done in the past. Deployed at Cellondora, it was here that Kazue skills of engineering were put to the test once again. A fleet of NMX jumped into the system and opened fire upon them. It was a fierce battle and Kazue had seen the bad side of what a battle could do that every day. But she survived and was recognized for it, she was granted to take the command course to gain the officer rank.

Only going upwards She stayed on the YSS Yotho to become their new Chief Engineer as the previous Chief had perished at the battle at Cellondora. In her service time at the Yotho, she learned herself also to become a certified firefighter that was listed as Star Army Emergency Services on her service records. Kazue did her best to keep morale up and going as the Yotho had to face the NXM a few more times. Due to her guidance and leadership, she managed to keep the ship together and command reassigned her in YE 37 to the YSS Wakaba, a Sharie-class Battleship in service of the Seventh Fleet as their Star Army First Officer. She oversaw operations to secure systems and hunt down remnants of the NMX that were a threat to the Yamatai Empire.

In YE 40 YSS Wakaba was unloading cargo at Hanako's World and got surprised by the incoming attack of the Interstellar Kingdom Of Kuvexia. The ship took severe damage and its ship's Captain perished and Kazue was forced to take the leash. However, she and her crew held their grounds against the invaders until backup came to push them away. Even though her Captain was revived, Kazue was given command over the YSS Wakaba that got reassigned to First Expeditionary Fleet. It took six months for the YSS Wakaba to get repaired at Gemini Star Fortress until she could get back into space and resume her duty to support the Empire at her best.

The Motoyoshi Calling When the Interstellar Kingdom Of Kuvexia invaded the Kikyo Sector in YE 41, she did her best to defend the borders at Arzank where they had push through. Thought she was recalled to the First Expeditionary Fleet HQ for a new assignment. Little did she knew that she would become the new Fleet Commander of the 48th Kibō no hakobi-te. The 48th got reassigned to the Tange System to help with humanitarian relief, as Kazue leads the YSS Wakaba to Tange V where a signal is coming from an abandoned UOC station.
