Character Description

Pidole looks has flawless light peach skin, blue eyes, and red hair she keeps chin-length in the front but in a long pony tail in the back. She is a little nervous. She is 159cm (between 5'2" and 5'3") in height, 60 kg (132 lbs) and slender with modest breasts and an athletic musculature. Pidole plays sports (like volleyball) and works out regularly and enjoys working up a heavy sweat. She also likes spicy food such as chili or nachos covered in peppers.

She is a skilled, analytical technician with an unusually apt way of seeing mechanisms in her mind that makes it easier for her to disassemble and reassemble machines. She is able to visualize machine components in her mind in a way that effectively gives her multiple perspectives and helps her locate the source of faults very quickly.

Pidole has a tendency to stare at things and people and quietly watch them in fascination as they happen instead of reacting to them in an animated fashion. She easily goes along when others take the lead, preferring to observe events rather than direct them.

Bug Companion

Pidole has a fist-sized blue beetle named Bidole that she keeps as a pet. Pidole says, "She just showed up one day around the time I joined the Star Army. I gave her food and we became friends. She follows me everywhere. I am not even sure what species she is," the red-headed technician explained. "I think she likes me because I'm the first person who gave her a chance and didn't treat her like a pest. She's very smart, too. Really smart! She can even help me make repairs. I trained her when I was in my Star Army career training. I suspect she maybe be genetically engineered. Because she's small I can smuggle her almost anywhere."

Pidole is extremely attached to her bug companion since it's one of the most reliable things in her life. When told to leave the bug by her boss, she felt heartbroken, emotional, and trapped. Knowing she couldn't disobey orders without risking her career, she considered a transfer to another starship. Thankfully the situation was resolved.

History & Relationships

Pidole was born on YE 21.8.18 on Yamatai \(Planet\).

OOO Notes

This NPC was created by Wes on 2020/12/26 14:19. If Wes is gone for a year this character can be adopted. Artwork by Wes using artwork generated by Wes using waifulabs.com and background purchased by Wes from Dollar Photo Club.

Wes explained the origin's of Pidole's bug: "I still make a lot of art in Paint Shop Pro 7.04 which is a software from 2001. The "Picture Tube" is immediately below the eraser in the interface. I accidentally picked the wrong tool and instead of erasing the background remnants around the edge of the character I put a bug on [her]. I figured it made the character more unique and memorable so it was worth keeping. I think it'll become a tradition. Any character I accidentally put a bug on will have insect affinity and I'll leave a bug in the final artwork."

Awards Won

Amazingly, Bidole was voted Best NPC of 2022<sup>20)21)</sup>!
