Personality

Thaddeaus for the most part a fairly laid back person. The only time he is dead serious is when he is on the battlefield. His strong desire to protect others drives him to put himself in harms way. Generally speaking he does not go out of his way to socialize with people. The exception to this when it comes to his fellow comrades. Around the team he is open and has no issue with talking it up. He does his best to treat everyone around him with a high level of respect and hopes they do the same in return.

One glaring flaw of his is getting too attached to his fellow troops. While some attachment can be healthy, at times he takes it too far which can lead to him overrating in a situation. While not so much a flaw, he finds himself getting into situations with the opposite sex. Whether this is planned or just dumb luck, he just goes to where the situation leads him.

One thing I have learned is that everyone needs some loven on the battlefield.

History

Thaddeaus Maximus was born in YE 19 on the world, Asura III. From the very start Thad always had an eye for adventure. When given the chance he would wonder off for days in the search of a quest or prize. During his travels he found sword masters to hone his weapon of choice, a gunblade. Call him old fashion but there was something to be said to win a fight without any power armor. In fact he was more likely to have on standard armor long before having power anything.

His life was turned upside down when he enlisted with a group that was at war with the Black Knight. There was evil people and then you had the Black Knight and his band of thugs. Thad had more than one run in with this fellow. He watched as his bear bro was killed in battle. Seen his girl friend beaten and tortured. During one encounter while a POW, he was made to perform in a play. He looked good in that dress but the look of that woman is forever burned into his mind. He was told to beat her and not stop till told. He knew if he didn't, the black knight would do even worse things. So he lifted that whip and played his role.

This all came to a crashing end during a major battle. Thad squared off against the Black Knight who was phased little by his attacks. Thad was beaten and lifted up by his arm. The Black Knight laughing and enjoy his struggle. Thad took the last of his strength and stab his bear bros claw deep into the neck of the Black Knight. He had taken it and swore he'd have his revenge.

Mo Than He Bargained For.

During one of his many trips to the bars he came across a young maiden who was wounded after a fierce fight. He surely could not leave her to die outside a crappy bar so he helped her back to his place. He fixed her right up and even fed her breakfast. After hours of talking and getting to know each other better a friendship was born. He would learn her full name was Monica. As they parted he gave her a gift of a bear claw. After she left he took the bullet he had taken out of her and engraved her name on it.

Time with the NDC

During this time Thad would continue to grow within the ranks of the NDC. He made it up to Squire prior to his departure. Noteworth events include working at the University of Osman. His task was gym class and ensuring everyone who enter came out a hardened solder. It was hardwork since a large amount of the population was female and more concerned with all things not combat. None the less he was fair and worked them to overcome all different kinds of hardships.

His next assignment was Operation Crimson Jungle. This thrust him back into the front lines to fight the forces of evil. The action was tense and the grenades plentiful that battle. It was during this battle he got to meet another who was just as crazy as he was. At least this is what he thought about Jacky Pine. They both managed to live to see another day in the sun.

Prior to running off on new adventures, he did get the chance for one large outing with the group. While it was not filled with battle, playing dress up has its place too. Fun Times. Mixed in with this he would spend time with Nora. War torn and recovering from her husband being killed, Thad did his part to help out and spend time with her daughter Mia. It was a casual relationship though was another reminder of the hardship of war.

Fall of Himiko

Thaddeaus found himself on Himiko after passing out on a trade ship after leaving a bar with a neko. Which ended up working out well since the planet got jumped by the Kuvexian. This was his first time running into them and did not take long to add them to his list of races that just got to go. It was also his first time getting to see the fighter from Yamatai Star Empire in action. He quickly grew to admire these fighters and seen them as comrades and friends. He met the likes of Menelick and Oshiro Masumi during his time on that planet. Despite the efforts of everyone the planet would soon fall. Though was not before Thad had the chance to take out a good amount of Kuvexian.

Army Recruit and First Assignment on YSS Kanagawa

It did not take long for Thad to decide on his next action in life. He walked into the Star Army recruitment center and signed up. It was here that he got the chance to run into Mia Barber. Someone he hoped to run into again out on a mission.

Shortly after signing up he was sent off to a new ship, the YSS Kanagawa. What started out as a simple fetch mission, turned into a life and death situation. The ship was dropped into an unknown section of space with its power system busted up. It was up to Thad and company to come up with a plan to get out of this situation. At one point Thad squared off against a large crab beast. This was in addition to all the space creatures met in this area of space. Though not confirmed Thad talks about him making his way back riding a space shark.

Thad got a new Pet

Prior to making his way back into known space, Thad picked up a friend. During one of his battles with space creatures he saved what looked to be a fuzzy eel with small legs and a fin down its back. When it becomes excited the small fuzzy balls covering its body glow neon colors. He named it Lulu as this seemed the most fitting of names for this creature. Coming from the same creatures met during his adventure it also had the same abilities. This included being able to float/fly in space and normal gravity. It also does not require food in the normal sense. Instead it feeds on Aether. Lastly much like a faithful dog, Lulu is highly protective of Thad and making the creature a shork.
