About Black Wings Enterprises

In YE 40, the New Dusk Conclave realized they needed to sponsor a company that was local to handle product sales and manufacturing in order to kickstart the forming of a proper economy in the young nation. The idea for Black Wings Enterprise was drafted with a few recruited bright minds for business and manufacturing.

The NDC handed over all their research data to give the forming company a starting point in Research and Development. The new office building and factory to get the fledgling corporation started was finished in YE 41. The company was finalized and officially opened later that year, taking over all business responsibilities that the government had been handling up until then. Ring Master Elio'Sin'To "Celebration" Llamnel, Tilia Shervana, and Kai'lara Garn'ikia were announced publicly as its first CEOs that same day.

Tilia resigned soon after founding due to personal reasons, with no clear sign of a possible return to the company, leaving it in the capable hands of her cohorts.

Facilities

Here are the various properties and facilities the company owns and operates for various purposes.

Headquarters

The main office building for BWE is located in the market district of Obsidian City on the planet Sirris VI, the New Dusk Conclave's capital in the Sanctum star system. It is run and overseen by two of the CEOs that founded the company. The building is a forty story skyscraper of metal and technology. The company name and logo are projected over the face of the building that the population walk by everyday.

Inside are sleek surfaces and the best technologies that the NDC has to offer. In cubicle style, the minds within type away at projected keyboards to handle the logistical side of operations. Some floors contain labs where new products are thought up and prototype'd for manufacturing, using the data provided by government sources in their research. On the highest floors are the main board room, the administrative offices, and the top being studio style apartment spaces where the CEOs reside. At the very top of the building is a large landing pad and communications mast, capable of providing a location for most common-sized shuttles to set down.

Sirris VI: NDC Green Zone Factory

Outside the NDC's capital city of Obsidian city lies a wide, 15km stretch of jungle from the beach to the mountains that surrounds the bay that the city sits in. In this small, controlled area of the region, the company had a large factory built with the help of the Department Of Engineering. The facility was built with the best technologies for manufacturing, safety, and transportation that the NDC had to offer.

The facility covers a 3 mile by 2 mile plot of land. It is the place of work for over 2,000 workers, not counting autonomous units. This is where the majority of BWE products are made. They are then transported to the warehouses near the spaceport for export or sale in local stores. A few liaison personnel from Department Of Advanced Research And Development \(D.O.A.R.A.D.\) are stationed here to share research data, as well as act as a communications bridge when the need to commission the company for a project arises.
