History and Background

In YE 28, Seru Emrys took out loans from several banks in the Yamatai Star Empire to fuel the expansion of Emrys Industries into a multifaceted corporation. He took an interest in the recently independent Nepleslian Star Empire¹⁾ and made a massive investment in its economy. The successful launch of products like the EM-M1 Enforcer Powersuit, a line of pharmaceuticals, clothing, education²⁾ and even several restaurants on Yamatai \(Planet\)³⁾ was the start of multiple establishments of Emrys into the markets of the Kikyo Sector. Emrys would even invest in establishing their business in the Ayenee⁴⁾ universe.

Apesael Emrys, the son of Seru Emrys didn't support his family's investment in their corporation, he also notably discussed that he refused to buy anything from Emrys at all while attending a dinner with an associate on the YSS Destiny the same year the company had ascended in the markets. He became the assistant to Tanjo Shen, the CEO of NovaCorp⁵⁾, which was notably a competitor for the rising Emrys businesses.

Later that year, Seru Emrys traveled to Planet Nepleslia to meet with Sky Marshall Robert Davis to discuss the company's interests in the Nepleslian Empire. They discussed in-depth the use of Emrys drugs to disrupt the business of crime lords on Planet Nepleslia⁶⁾.

In YE 29, Seru Emrys traveled to Ohara while Fort Ohara was under construction. He met with Taisa Jeiriel Kemitha to discuss possible business with the Star Army of Yamatai and the Phods⁷⁾. They would go on to provide life-saving medicines to the Phods as was mentioned in the Amendment To Treaty With Ohara⁸⁾.

The company also established a relationship with the Lorath Matriarchy that year, but the deal almost fell through due to the Lorath Matriarchy requesting the construction manuals for the products they purchased. The deal was successful though after it was agreed upon that the manuals would not be provided⁹⁾.

Emrys Industries would go on to contribute a vast number of products to the market, which made it a successful player among the larger corporations in the Kikyo Sector. In YE 33, five years after its founding it would be bought by the Tamahagane Corporation under the guidance of CEO Tamahagane Hikaru. While the company has not produced many new products after the acquisition, it continues to produce the majority of its original product line.
