

NovaCorp PSC Device

A standard in almost all power armors, mecha, and starships the Conformal PSC provides complete protection against psionics and telepathy. It can allow certain channels to remain free to allow for telepathic operation even while providing full protection against psionic assault. An additional advantage is that the PSC negates all forms of magic. It can be left on at all times, and is by default constantly active, the field extending only an inch past the shields and as such not does not create a psionic 'dead zone'.
