

Stalwart Defense Industries

Stalwart Defense Industries (SDI) was a one-man weapons and military gear manufacturing company that helped the Lorath Matriarchy build a base of technology after first contact with the Yamatai Star Empire.

Introduction

The man's name is Fusegu Mora to his friends, and Stalwart to his business partners. He's the head, and sole member of the corporate entity known as Stalwart Defense Industries. Something of a layer through which he protects himself from liability.

He's a dabbler. Using the small amounts of funding he picks up through salvage, he creates low-cost miracles that he then sells to other companies for manufacture. A rather reclusive fellow, he hangs around his tiny ship and works with his creations before he docks at a nearby station to eat, restock, and hit on women and men alike.
