

Section 6

Formed by Jack Pine in the YE 39 after operation Roach Motel on the planet Cavalon due to heavy casualties received from heavy enemy opposition. Jack left the Nepleslian military because he was tired of ordering good men to die on his order for some commander that didn't care about his men. He left that behind when it became only him and Zeke as the only two surviving members. After the events of "Roach Hotel" and being reminded of those years in the military, he decided to take steps to hopefully prevent the large number of casualties again. Section 6 was his answer, a division dedicated to improving the odds for OSO personnel in combat operations, as well as the lives of those living in the OSO. Their job is to help accelerate OSO expansion through upgrading and developing new tech, following the mandate, "Advance, Adapt, Overcome".

However, this is how the organization used to be, which was disbanded in YE 41, and reformed into what is now the New Dusk Conclave government. The name is now used as a blanket term for the administration that coordinates the various branches of the NDC military. No longer operatives, and scientists, but logistics and administrative personnel handling a difficult job. To be part of this group is considered prestigious and an honor due to the name alone, and to the difficulty of helping mobilize an entire military on the Lords' order.

More about Section 6

The sub-division which was technically part of the Sky Guard, was dedicated to furthering the expansion and advancement of the OSO. They have since gained independence, becoming an autonomous organization in mid-ye40.

- Research and Development of new technologies as well as upgrades for existing equipment.
- Development of new Tactics and Intelligence gathering methods.
- Execution of high risk recon, intelligence, and covert operations.

After their disbanding and reformation into the New Dusk Conclave, the administration group of the same name in YE 41, bares a new set of responsibilities.

- Handling the transfer of data, and communications between NDC military departments.
- Filing and transferring supply, resource, and personnel orders from the logistics department.
- Relaying formal commands, and mandates from the NDC Lords.
- Documenting military policy, and mediating arbitration between the military and council.
- Keeping military censuses up to date, and assigning military branches barrack block spaces.
- Organizing military construction and expansion plans.
- Handling military financial transfers, accounting, management, and funding programs.

Property Assets

Section 6 from YE 39 to YE 40, maintained a large facility 5km outside Osman City due west. A residential area sat in front of the facility and was a suburb style neighborhood made up of contemporary style homes made from shipping containers. A 100ft reinforced wall was later added around both and a four lane highway connected the property area to the city. In mid YE 40, this was abandoned, leaving all structures and infrastructure for the most part intact. Minus some damage near the main facility, all of them now sit empty and no longer owned on Osman.

In YE 41 as the NDC military grew and expanded, the administration team brought about to manage it's various branches, was rebranded as the government's old organization title. This administration team was given management of the central administration building in Obsidian City's military district on Sirris VI, as well as a office in the administration district itself.
