

Nepleslian Military Rations (YE 31 Type)

Nepleslians are usually provided with freshly cooked meals in base or onboard their starships. During operations soldiers are generally limited to nutrition systems built into their power armors, although recently there are some new rations available (see below).

NOTE: To generate a random one of these rations, use the Random Nepleslian War Ration Generator

War Rations

In YE 31, the Nepleslian military ordered special wartime rations for troops in the field for when they were stuck away from their ships during the Second Mishhuvurthyar War. These self-contained ready-to-eat rations are produced by Omnom Corp of Nepleslia.

In YE 37, the rations went through a revision and update. With that in mind, the old YE 31 version stopped being produced, but they can still be found everywhere around the DloN.

Trivia

- Nepleslian troops often refer to Nepleslian Military Rations (NMRs) as food that will “Normally Make [you] Regurgitate”.
- The MANLY meat roll was almost removed from the menu list when a marine nearly had his arm broken in a fight over the “favorite NMR main dish”.
- With the washcloth, whiskey bottle, and gasoline, it is possible to make a miniature molotov cocktail using ration ingredients.
