612	World War 4 Ends, 1.5 Billion people are killed

Year	Event
Era of Beginning - Spanning for nearly two thousand years, the Era of Beginnings Historical Records only account for eight hundred years
000	Era of Beginning Starts
184	The Neshaten Nation was created
231	K'sten Orbital Station is destroyed in a terrorist attack
231	K'sten Civil War Begins
335	Lasce Faction, known for being predominately Daur, are the first to be wiped out in the war
337	Civaze Faction fell, after their asteroid bases were bombed by the Nicase Faction
341	Nicase Faction, the last of the two remaining, fell when the Neshaten assaulted their Home World and wiped them out, this became a center of controversy
342	Reconstruction begins, the Neshaten, being the only faction left, unites much smaller factions under their banner to form the Neshaten Federation.
713	Four hundred years after the Civil War, the Neshaten have been able to recover much of what was destroyed. Technological progress is in a boom.
784	Tensions begin to rise between the Laibe, Daur, and My'leke, despite the Neshaten's best efforts to prevent racial problems..
Era of Tension
020	A terrorist attack in the Neshaten capital results in four hundred dead, is blamed on My'leke insurgents
033	The Mura, a long range science vessel, is dispatched into deep space for exploration
065	A second terrorist attack, again blamed on the My'leke, destroys an orbital mining ring which falls into the atmosphere of a predominately Laibe inhabited world. Ecological destruction results in the deaths of millions.
Era of War
000	Era of War Begins
005	Small scale skirmishes erupt in several outer rim worlds, skirmishes seem restricted to local trade routes and patrol zones
008	The Pacifist Faction declares War on the Neshaten, declaring that they are the 'one' and 'only' pure Shukaren. Caught off guard, the Pacifists deployed a new style weapon that they showed in force on several heavily populated worlds, resulting in complete destruction
008+4	A Pacifist Fleet comprised of nearly forty eight vessels lays siege to a Neshaten Military Fortress. The station is destroyed after eight hours of constant fighting, but not before taking half of the enemy fleet with it when the stations commander overloaded the reactor.
012	A civilian transport belonging to the Neshaten, carrying over three hundred people, is destroyed.
042	Several outer Rim worlds fall to the Pacifists, but the advance is slow due to sabotage within the Pacifist Fleets.
056	A Lull in the war allows the Neshaten to quickly rebuild their forces, bolstered by powerful corporations, it would take them nearly ten years to recover that which they have lost. In the same year, the Pacifists are dealing with their own problems, with insurgency activity behind their borders.
063	The war continues, the Neshaten strike back at the Pacifists, destroying several key supply outposts and forcing Pacifist Fleets back behind their borders temporarily
065	A new surge occurs when the Pacifists force their way back over their borders, thrusting deeper into Neshaten territory, taking out key star bases and planets and enslaving Shukaren-Daur and My'leke that they capture.

Year	Event
102	Nearly forty years after the Pacifist Surge, the Neshaten have once again found themselves low on ships and resources, but the Pacifists have spread themselves and their supply-lines thin, allowing resistance and militia groups to strike at these weaknesses
105	The Shukara, a Neshaten Class Dreadnought, is constructed. It was originally slated to be one of a kind, but four others were scheduled to be built. The Shukara distinguishes itself during a combat trial when a Pacifist assault fleet attempts to take it out, only for them to be taken out instead.
120	The Neshaten deploy quantum weapons in an effort to stave off the Pacifists, this results in the Pacifists deploying their own quantum weapons. This results in high casualties in all worlds were battles take place, and many of the Core Worlds of both factions are laid waste.
400	With the war taking a heavy toll on the Neshaten, its decided that the only way to survive is to somehow flee their area of the galaxy. A location for this construction was set in a secret star system that the Pacifists hadn't found, thanks to sophisticated jamming equipment. It would take twenty five year before the system would be ready to build any kind of ships, due to the slow nature that the Neshaten had to work with in to keep the system secure, but to still transport materials to it. Several corporations volunteered their services and manpower, along with ships.
425	Evacuation Transports construction begins, estimated to take sixty years in order to stay secret
461	V'kastes Legion is formed, V'kaste dies in battle six months later
485	Evacuation Transports construction completed
486	Evacuation Transports are launched, only three survive the lift off, rest are destroyed by Pacifist Forces
500	Neshaten and Pacifist forces clash one final time, with both sides eradicating the other, the war ends

Era of Restart

Year	Event
000	Three lone evacuation transports arrive in the Nesha system, but only two actually survive. The Neshaten re-establish their civilization, but with their technology set back by nearly a thousand years, they've been forced back to using tools from an older era, and will need to wait until they can re-establish their research bases before being able to try and rediscover the old ways
623	FTL is rediscovered
629	First FTL Jump initiated, failure occurs when the ship can't establish a fold tunnel. Later that same year, it is theorized that they might be residing in an area of space where FTL is impossible, theory is attacked by several prominent scientists, but one FTL test pilot decides to test that theory and sets his ship to the star systems edge
633	Pilot arrives and initiates an FTL jump, FTL jump succeeds and proves theory that the Nesha System is a dead FTL zone that the Neshaten don't presently have the technology to combat
747	New Grandparents Day Massacre, occuring during the New Harvest. The Grandparents Day Massacre, sometimes also referred to as the New Harvest Massacre of 747, was a terrorist attack by the Netrunu'marol on the city of Forben that lead to the deaths of many adults and children.
774	First Neshaten combat ship built

The Kingdom discovered the Poku Saeruo Degonjo after a series of mysterious transmissions had been sent to their a colony of theirs in the Bai'yusaenahe'mah , this lead to the discovery and later treaty signing with what is known as the Hidden Sun Clan. After the treaty signing, the Neshaten realized that the HSC wasn't the only nation that existed in the universe, but that there were several others - this included the Yamatai Star Empire and the Democratic Imperium of Nepleslia amongst others; the Neshaten have since only met the Yamataians and have yet to establish actual contact with any other nations although this is subject to change.

With the emergence of this anti-establishment group the kingdom acquired another enemy, due to the diligent efforts of the Division 5 members information was eventually brought to the light of various other species cooperating with Kingdom Fall. This lead to a full territorial lockdown in order to identify whether foreign nations were helping the terrorists.
