

Ke-M2-G3000 Shoulder Capacitor

By itself, the Capacitor has little value – serving only as a source of emergency power. However, when coupled with energy intensive equipment like the Barrier Shield Module, the Hyper-Space Fold Drive or the Teleportation Unit, the Capacitor proves its worth. Providing a massive surge of power, it allows such modules to be recharged instantly. After which, the Capacitor itself must be recharged before being used again. Like most shoulder modules, the Capacitor fits onto one shoulder and two may be equipped if the situation warrants it.
