

Star Army Uniforms

The uniforms of the Star Army of Yamatai have been widely recognized throughout space since their creation in YE 22. Comfortable, functional, and form fitting, the uniforms incorporate traditional blue flag color of the Yamatai Star Empire.

The Star Army's main uniform is the Duty Uniform, which comes in multiple configurations. There is also a working uniform which is for work on starships, a field uniform for planet-side use, and an exercise uniform for physical training. Additionally, the Star Army has a Spacesuit, a bodysuit, a pilot suit, and a variety of other specialized uniforms.

History

The Star Army uniforms have kept a relatively consistent look over the years, typically using Star Army Regal Blue colored top and a cadet blue-gray bottom with black accessories such as boots.

YE 20s

Star Army forces initially used the Star Army Coverall, Type 01 from the Army Of Uesureya before developing distinctive uniform designs in YE 22 called the Type 22 Duty Uniform and Type 22 Bodysuit Uniform. This was followed by the Type 23 Dress Uniform in YE 23. A Spacesuit, the AMES, was added in YE 28. In YE 29, the Star Army introduced the Type 29 Exercise Uniform, which replaced an unofficial exercise uniform comprising of black shorts and a black T-shirt.

Early YE 30s

In YE 30, the Star Army of Yamatai made several attempts at redesigning their uniform such as the Type 30A Duty Uniform and Type 30B Duty Uniform. The Star Army adopted the utilitarian Type 31 Working Uniform, the Type 31 Field Uniform, and the Type 31 Engineering Protective Jumpsuit in YE 31 during the Second Mishhuvurthyar War era.

In YE 32 the Star Army added the iconic Type 32 Cap (a flat blue sailor hat) and the Type 32 Service Dress Coat for cold and rainy days. In YE 33, the Star Army added a barebones prisoner uniform for captured NMX Nekovalkyrja. There was a question of where to put medals, which resulted in the short-lived Type 34 Ceremonial Sash.

Late YE 30s

The original Type 22 look of the Star Army made a comeback in YE 35 in the form of the excellent Type 35 Duty Uniform. Officers got the Star Army Officer's Cap, Type 36 in YE 36. The Star Army also introduced the NMX-inspired Type 36 Coverall as a stopgap field uniform.

In YE 37, the Kuvexian War began. The Type 37 Field Uniform replaced the previous field uniform and the Star Army Duty Uniform, Type 30C came into service for cold weather use. The Star Army switched to the Type 38 Exercise Uniform in YE 38, which was almost entirely Star Army blue.

YE 40s

In YE 40, the Star Army updated the exercise uniform into the Type 40 Exercise Uniform, by adding cold weather items and changing the shirt color from blue to white to increase visibility. This also mostly restored the visual look of the Type 29.

In YE 42, the Star Army introduced the Type 42 Duty Uniform (replacing the Type 32 Working Uniform) and Type 42 Bodysuit Uniform (an updated version of the Type 22 Bodysuit). In YE 43, the Star Army added a maternity version of the Type 42 called the Type 43 Duty Uniform. In YE 44 the Star Army adopted the Sweater, Type 44.

In YE 45, the age of exploration outside of the Kikyo Sector in the larger Kagami Galaxy began with urgency due to the Third Mishhuvurthyar War. To meet this need, the Star Army added specifications and standards for various combat skinsuits collectively referred to as the Star Army Explorer Uniform, which offered a middle ground between standard uniforms, spacesuits, and power armor.

Uniform Classifications

The Star Army classifies uniforms based on their functions. Sometimes more than one uniform will be available for a particular class.

Class	Function	Issue
A	Formal; Dress uniforms, parade wear	General standard issue
