

Nepleslian Mindware

After much political and moral debate and some negotiations with the Free State, in early YE 33 the Democratic Imperium of Nepleslia finally accepted the patent for a Nepleslian version of the Freespacers' most common cybernetic implant, the mindware device, and allowed it to be sold to the Nepleslian public. Nepleslian mindware works exactly like its Freespacer counterpart (passive and active learning strictly optional), allowing Nepleslians direct access to the Polysentience, but it also allows them remote access to the InterNEP. Development around the project is currently underway, adding software to equipment and ships that would enable Nepleslians to interface the machines directly from wireless connection to the mindware, as well as making the InterNEP accessible to Freespacers.
