Operation Bloody Shield - November 28 2002 at 1:54 PM

When the island country of Brittanica made sudden moves on the war-torn Ayenee Capital City in late YE 22 (Nerima ~2070), the Grand Star Army was among the first of several to make a stand against it. Already, the 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th Armor Regiments were near the capital, some 100 miles south, near the PNUgen Corporation CMC base, as well as the 14th, 15th, and 16th Infantry Regiments. These were experienced units, which had fought in and won great battles, most notably during the attempted invasion of the Ayenee Capital City by the alien forces approximately one year before. As the troops of Brittanica moved, the hardened soldiers of the GSA made ready. Back on Geshrintall, additional units were activated to bring additional firepower to the scene if necessary. A large defense operation was underway, but there was more than met the eye. Should Brittanica continue their foolish incursion, the Grand Star Army would be able to launch a full-scale counter-invasion.

The GSA Forces move into position. (although force Ayressan is hidden for the time being.) Naturally, they do not interfere with Feisar Arms. A few civilian and corporate/military channels and point-of-contacts are set up so anyone with questions can contact the GSA command.

Withdrawal of ACC Forces

December 9 2002 at 9:14 PM

The units stationed outside of the Ayenee Capital City headed south during the freezing cold night. Tank treads and vehicle wheels crunched over snow and ice as the mighty BW-6b tanks moved out, the ghostly silhouettes of GSA troops in snow-white overcloaks standing atop the tanks manning massive machineguns as the steamy haze behind them glowed like christmas lighting with the collection of tail-lights and other illuminators of the heavy vehicles.

Now that the Brittanica forces had been allowed to pass, the purpose of their deployment was no longer the same, and the GSA had said that it would not enter ACC, and did not want to go back on its word. Thus, in the morning, the mass of tanks formerly surrounding the city would be in the PNUgen Corporation's territory to the south, readying for transport back to GSE space.
